ALEXANDRIA.

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 8, 1866.

The Baltimore Gazette, speaking of the various reports concerning the movements of the Fenians, says: - 'If we could see any possible good that the Fenians could effect for Ireland, we should be disposed to sympathize with them heartily; but we are satisfied that by no effort on their part can the true interests of the Irish people be advanced. A raid across the Canadian frontier or the capture of an island in Passamaquoddy Bay may so far be of advantage to the Fenian leaders as to keep up the excitement among the Brotherhood and bring fresh sums of money into the Fenian treasury; but how the liberation of Ireland is to be effected by a hostile demonstration on Canada, or on an outlying dependency of New Bruuswick, passes our comprehension. If these men mean honestly they should fight the battle of Ireland in Ireland itself."

This is what one of the ablest and most independent Republican editors in the country says:-"The leadership of Congress has been distinguished by its folly. The classical and dreary Sumner, and the petulant and malignant Stevens, have combined the impracticable with the mischievous in a wonderful degree. If they had been statesmen, they might have so terfeiting establishment in New York, capturdirected the power of Congress as to modify and improve the President's policy, without | three hundred thousand notes of the new fifty aggravating him into open hostility, but they have been so exacting, headlong and furious, that they cannot point to a single fact accom plished, unless they are willing to call themfor the chaos that is about them."

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:- "Gen. Grant was arrested yesterday afternoon by officer Bailey, on the charge of fast driving. The officer had quite a race after the General, and when he caught up the General offered to pay the fine, but refused to be arrested. The officer having no authority to receive fines on the highway, desired the General to report at the station house, but he immediately drove off at full speed. It is said that President Lincoln was once placed under arrest for fast driving, and acknowledge the authority of the law by paying his fine at the station house."

We have received information of the success of the Valley Railroad Convention which met in Staunton on Wednesday. Col. M. G. Harman was elected President of the Road, and the comp'et: organization of the company was effected. : At Staunton $200,000 were subscribed at once. The convention was largely attended, and everything denc is the successful opeof the company at once. Gen. Wise was expected at the Convention, but we learn was not

It is reported from Washington, that a majority of the Judges of the Supreme Court have decided against the constitutionality of the test oath and of military courts. But whether the Supreme Court has really so disposed of these important questions or not, can only be known when the opinions of the Court are made publie, and it has been authoritatively announced that this will not be done until the next term.

The Southern Relief Fair, in Baltimore, is still going on most successfully. Already some $60,000 have been collected, and it is thought | La Fourche, comprising the richest sugar and

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.—The noticeable circumstances marking the Senate's action yesterday in passing the civil rights bill over the President's veto was the tumultous manner in which the announcement of Senator Morgan's vote, ranging himself under the command of Messrs. Stevens and Sumner, was received by the large body of their negro adherents who thronged the galleries. The rules of the Sen-ate were violated by them as could not have on has been arranged for every night during been done by white men without official rebuke, the session. A hundred delegates are present, if not punishment. If the House passess the bill by a two-thirds vote, the question of the soon. constitutionality of its features will very soon go to the Supreme Court; as collisions between its executors and States' authorities will surely speedily occur. In the meanwhile, congressional elections will as surely develope the fact that the nation vetoes the attempt to subvert the principles of the Constitution and Government of the United States involved in the measure. In its execution, until acted on by the Supreme Court, we presume the President will seek to prevent it from violating legal and Constitutional rights as far as possible which it is his plain duty to do. - Wash. Star.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES. - There are always reciprocal rights and reciprocal duties between employers and employees which should never be disregarded. Each should consult the welfare and the interest of the other, and never seek any undue advantege. Wages should never be too high nor too low, and the one party should never combine against the other, except to resist injustice and oppression. That the Richmond publishers are both just and generons we cannot disbelieve, and that they would combine to wrong their employees is simply absurd. They know what they can afford to pay, and they have the right to be the judge of their own necessities. To our own mind, it has long been clear that the newspaper press of Virginia cannot possibly thrive at their present rates of charges, while they are paying for labor, paper and everything used in their publication, one hundred per cent more than they paid before the war !- Lynchburg Republic.

THE FISHERIES-LARGE HAULS. -On Friday, Messrs. Thucker & Williams, caught at one haul 1,000 bunches of Perch and Rock, at Windmill Point. on the Marlboro estate, along the Potomac. On Saturday they caught 700 bunches. Yesterday, Mr. Thomas Williams of Georgetown, (but of the 30th Virginia Regibout three miles from town—will be rented to ment auld lang syne,) caught in Potomac Creek a careful and prompt tenant on moderate terms. a Rock Fish measuring eight feet in length.—

NEWS OF THE DAY.

To show the very age and body of the Times. Port au Prince, the capital of the Empire of Hayti, was visited by a destructive fire on the 19th ult. The city is built principally of wooden buildings, and the fire, in the absence of proper means of extinguishing the flames, spread with such rapidity that one thousand buildings were destroyed and seven thousand persons rendered houseless, before the flames were subdued.

President Johnson has issued a circular to the Heads of Departments, directing the latter that in appointments to office in the several departments of the Government and in the various branches of the public service connected with those departments, preference shall be given to soldiers and seamen, and particularly to those who have been disabled by wounds or diseases contracted during the war.

Last Friday evening the spacious rooms at the residence of the Lieutenant General were thronged with a distinguished and brilliant company. The President and the ladies of his family were present. The President received the respects of the large number of distinguished personages in company with General and Mrs. Grant.

An extensive conflagration occurred in Charleston, S. C., on the 5th, destroying seven brick buildings, with heavy stocks of goods. The buildings were known as Robb's Range, on King street. The loss is estimated at $100,-000, on which there are insurances to the amount of $77,000, mostly in Northern agen-

The Chicago Tribune says: There has been an informal meeting of-the Radical members of Congress in regard to the question of adjournment. After a full and free conference, it has been decided to protract the session until the latest period. A majority are in favor of ho'ding on until September.

The detective force of the Treasury Department has recently broken up an extensive couning the dies, presses, &c., of the concern. Cver cent currency, partly executed, were found on the premises.

The steamers Majors, Effie Deans, Nevada, Fannie Ogden, and Frank Bates were burned selves the architects of ruin, and claim credit at the levee in St. Louis on Saturday. The loss in boats is about $225,000, while that in cargoes is about $300,000. The insurance was not ascertained.

A dangerous crevasse is reported five miles below New Orleans, on the opposite bank. The hole is twenty feet in extent, and increasing. The river is rising. The levee commissioners are still in session. Recorder Gatnell, of the second district, was stabbed in the court room on the 5th inst., by an insane man. His wounds are serious. The grand jury have called the attention of Governor Welles to the conduct of Coroner Geiser in dismissing the murderers of Gruber. The affair has produced much excitement. The press argue that the President's proclamation abolishes martial law, and military occupations are removed. Addi tional bad news has been received from the crevasses. Heavy rains continue and the whole country is flooded. It is feared the whole country down to the Bayou Plaquemine will be submerged, as Bayou Plaquemine cannot carry off the flood; and it will extend down to the whole receipts will be more than $100,000. cotton lands in Louisian2. Crevasses are feared all over the State.

In the course of an impressive charge to the Grand Jury, the Judge referred to the complete restoration of the civil rights of citizens of the State by virtue of the recent proclamation of President Johnson; and this announcement, being the first intimation many persons in the Court room had that such a document had been promulgated, was received with great delight. — Warrenton Index.

The members of Andrew Jackson Lodge No 120, and Washington Lodge No. 22, and all Masons in good standing, are requested to meet this evening at 7½ o'clock at Andrew Jackson Lodge Room—for the purpose of making arrangements for the funeral of our brother, Dr. J. TO CONTRACTORS AND OTHERS.

Proposals are invited until April 28th, inst., for the leasing for a term of years of the Alexandria Canal, including all of its real and other property. This canal extends from the city of Alexandria, Va., to the city of Georgetown, D. C., on the north bank of the Potomac, where it connects with the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. The water is from thence conveyed across the Potomac in a wooden trough and superstruc-ture, which is built on granite rock piers, and and then by land into the Potomac at Alexandria. The following description of the piers of the aqueduct is from a report by the late M. C. Ewing, esq., Civil Engineer:—'An abutment is built against the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal at Georgetown. The Alexandria Canal commencing at this point is carried across the Potomac on an aqueduct 1600 feet long. This aqueduct was located by surveys made in 1831. Of the eight piers as now built 4 are in water from 35 to 40 feet deep, and 4 founded 25 to 35 feet below the surface. The abutments and piers were all built in coffer dams pumped out and dredged by steam machinery to the solid rock, on which they are erected in cement and trowel work from foundation. This laborious construction was the work of several years, with a large force engaged night and day except during part of the winter months. The piers are carried up 30 feet above the river surface, and are therefore in height from 55 to 70 feet. They are about 70 feet long at base, and 12 to 21 feet thick at the water surface. They are of granite rock laid in ceme t, and having stood the floods and drifts for several years, (1846) are believed to be of imperishable material and workmanship "—
The cost of the aqueduct, $575,381.43, including about $50,000 for the wooden trough and superstructure. The other portion of the canal, embankments, culverts, locks, wharves, ferry at Georgetown, &c., cost over $800,000. The Alexandria Canal may be properly called the terminus of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal.—There was transported of coal alone, over the Alexandria Canal in 1860, about 300,000 tons, and the coal trade has largely increased since, but owing to the war no coal has come over the Alexandria Canal, for the reason that the aqueduct has been used by the Government as a wagon road from Georgetown to Arlington.—Parties contracting will be required to place and keep the canal and aqueduct in order and repair, and to use the canal and aqueduct for the purposes for which it was originally constructed and no other unless by consent of all the contracting parties.
